RWANDA ENERGY SECTOR FORUM

The Rwanda Development Board in collaboration with the Ministry of Infrastructure is organizing an investor forum to be held in Kigali, on the 29th of February 2012. The forum is scheduled to attract leading players in the energy sector, including investors, financing institutions as well as energy professionals.

This event will be an opportunity to explore Rwanda's investment potential in the energy sector as well as incentives available to investors in this sector. Likewise, it will serve as a platform for members of Rwanda's private sector to meet with other potential partners and discuss possible strategic partnerships.

The forum is also an opportunity for participants to engage in debates on important energy investment issues as they network with other participants including policy makers, key government officials and business leaders.

We therefore wish to take this opportunity to invite you for this important forum that will be a big step in contributing to the growth of Rwanda's energy sector.

We have attached herein a brief on the potential investment areas in the energy sector for your prior information ahead of the forum.
